

RECOGNIZED NIGHT RIDERS

Marshall Haly Springs, Surprise on Defense in Trial at Cynthiana.

TELLS OF AN ATTACK.

Gives Names of a Number of Men Whom, He Says, He Recognized.

Cynthiana, Ky., June 18.—A jury of twelve farmers was secured yesterday to try the cases of "Dogwood" Kenton, Chas. Fowler, Bill Brown and "Gum" McGhee, the latter colored, charged with night riding and participating in the attack several months ago on Marshall Haly, who was bringing his tobacco to this city. Haly was the first witness for the Commonwealth and he told of his wagon being stopped on the way to this city, of one of them being turned over and said he recognized in the band of riders Kenton, McGhee and Brown. He did not know Fowler, he said, and could not identify him. Haly said he was unable to secure any teams to haul his tobacco to market in Bracken county and came to this county to get them. He told of his being whipped by the riders but said that the whipping was not severe as he promised to take his tobacco back to Clayburg from where he was hauling it and the men let him go.

On cross-examination by the attorneys for the defense Haly said also that he recognized a number of other men in the raid and named over half a dozen. Before Haly's testimony was concluded, the court adjourned for lunch.

At the afternoon session Marshall Haly and J. Kinney Six testified to recognizing different ones of the defendants on the occasion of the whipping of Denny Washburn at the old Reinhaner house. Six, in response to a question of the defense as to whether he had recognized any persons in the crowd of night riders other than those mentioned by him, refused to answer. He was fined $30 twice by the court for not answering and was threatened with a jail sentence. The latter was avoided by the defense withdrawing the question.

TENNESSEE DEMOCRATS

State Convention Expected To Instruct for Byran.

Nashville, Tenn., June 18.—The Democratic State Convention for the purpose of selecting delegates to the Democratic national convention at Denver, was called to order at the State Capitol at noon to day. There are more than 1,300 delegates in attendance. The Bryan sentiment strongly permeates the convention and it is practically certain that the delegates from Tennessee will be unanimously instructed to cast their votes for the Nebraskan. It is almost a certainty that Senators Robert L. Taylor and James B. Frazier and G. T. Fitzhugh, of Memphis, and L. D. Tyson, of Knoxville, will be the delegates-at-large to the Denver convention. No electors will be selected by the convention. This is left to the gubernatorial convention which meets July 14th.

Warrant Dismissed.

London, Ky., June 16.—The friends and relatives of the late Geo. Baker, of Manchester, Clay county, who was killed in 1898 by James B. Howard on going to the office of Circuit Clerk Smith to ask that a warrant be issued for his arrest. D. H. Baker, a son of the murdered man, learned on investigation of the records that the case, after having been transferred from the Clay County Court to London for trial, had on June 1, 1901, been dismissed.

EQUITY SOCIETY TO VISIT LOUISVILLE.

From 25,000 to 50,00 Members are Expected at Meeting There During the State Fair in September.

Louisville, Ky., June 19.—The army of the Equity Society will invade Louisville on the Friday of State Fair week in September. The society will come to Louisville anywhere from 25,000 to 50,000 strong, and before assembling at the fair grounds will form a mammoth parade, marching through the streets of Louisville. The parade promises to be the greatest and the most memorable in the history of Louisville. Practically every grower from the Burley to the dark belt region will attend, their members being limited only by the capacity of the trains bearing them.

The decision to attend the State Fair in a mammoth tobacco body was reached at Winchester after speeches had been made to the tobacco men by J. W. Newman, Secretary of the State Fair; Sam P. Jones, President of the Commercial Bank and Trust Company, and several prominent tobacco leaders.

After considering the question for some time the tobacco people decided unanimously to send out notices convening a mammoth gathering of their friends in Louisville on Friday of fair week.

It was also decided to organize an escort of honor for Miss Alice Lloyd and ask her to participate in the procession through the streets in recognition of her defence of the Equity growers a few months ago.

U. S. MARSHAL

Was Fired Upon By a Gang of Negroes.

Bill Matheny, a Hopkins county negro, was arrested near Nortonville by Deputy U. S. Marshal Ament and brought before Commissioner Yonts, who held him over to the federal grand jury on a charge of selling liquor without a government license. He was unable to furnish bond and was taken to jail at Owensboro.

The officer was fired upon by a crowd of negroes while he was en route to arrest Matheny. He had made a contract with two men to show him the house where Matheny lived, when he was attacked by the negroes. They ordered him to leave the vicinity, but the marshal refused. The negroes then went to a house and secured guns and fired on Ament. Their aim was bad, however, and none of the bullets took effect.

A Correction.

In our issue of June 16th, an error was made as to the close season on squirrels. In addition to the time from February 1st to June 15th, there is another space of two months, from Sept. 15th to Nov. 15, when they may not be shot, neither squirrels nor rabbits. This law was made not only to give the squirrels that much more protection, but to remove the temptation from the man or boy with a gun, to shoot quail before the opening season for them, which begins Nov. 15 and closes Dec. 31. So during these two months of the year, no kind of game can be legally killed in Kentucky except Doves, Duck, Woodcock, Snipe and Deer. Rabbits may be snared or trapped or "treed" with a dog at any time, and the "luscious possum" can be plucked when ever he is ripe, but no shooting of rabbit, squirrel, quail or pheasant during this close season from Sept. 15 to Nov. 15, both days inclusive.

Osteopaths Rejoice.

New York, June 15.—Osteopaths gained a point by the decision of the supreme court in Brooklyn, sustaining a peremptory writ of mandamus granted by Judge Dickey, in which the board of health was ordered to accept a death certificate issued by Dr. Chas. S. Bandel, of No. 148 Hancock street.

Libel Suit Withdrawn.

Lawrenceburg, Ky., June 16.—The libel suit of Noel Gaines against Percy Haly has been withdrawn, each party to the suit paying his own costs.

AWFUL REVENGE.

Italian Shoots and Kills Three Fellow-Countrymen.

New Orleans, June 18.—Following a series of crimes attributed to so-called "Black Hand" societies in the Italian quarter of New Orleans, one of the worst tragedies yet connected with that section took place today, when three Italians were shot to death.

According to the police, these men were killed as a result of an attempt to extort money from Pietro Giacono, a wealthy Italian wine merchant of 1113 Chartres street. Giacono and his son told the police that these men had frequently bought wine from them by the barrel, and had invariably refused to pay for it.

According to their story the three forced them to ship a barrel of wine to a point in Louisiana yesterday, and returned early to-day and ordered them to prepare a meal. The older Giacono suspected that trouble would ensue and hid a repeating rifle near the table. When one of the visiting Italians drew a heavy caliber revolver and ordered them to produce money and valuables the elder Giacono answered with a shot from the rifle. The man he fired at fell dead and the other two attempted to escape.

One was killed before he had gotten ten feet from the table. The other reached a staircase only to receive a bullet in his brain as he started down the steps, his body falling into the courtyard below.

Only one of the Italians killed has been identified as a man named Baracca, known to the police.

SKULL FRACTURED.

John Rountree Pitched Out of Automobile.

Paducah, June 18.—John Rountree, a prominent business man of Sharpe, Marshall county, was badly injured while being driven to his home from this city in an automobile. Rountree had come to Paducah to join a party of prospectors going to Southern Texas. He received word that his wife was very ill, and he hired an automobile and chauffeur, Albert Garney, to hurry him to the bedside of his wife.

Going through the city at a lively clip, a wheel was pulled off when the machine struck the street car track, and Rountree was hurled out on his head, resulting in a slight fracture to the skull. He was picked up unconscious and taken to a hotel, where physicians attended him. They say he will recover. The chauffeur was not hurt.

CHANGE OF DATE.

Denver Special Will Leave July 3.

Since the issuance of itinerary by the "Henderson Route" of special train service from Louisville and Kentucky points to Denver, account the Democratic National Convention, it has been arranged for special train to leave Louisville via "Henderson Route," at 9 o'clock, p. m. Friday, July 3, instead of July 4, as originally intended.

Hopkinsville passengers will, therefore, leave here on trains arriving in Henderson at or before midnight July 3, instead of July 4. The fare for round trip from Hopkinsville will be $35.05.

FRANCHISE TO BE SOLD

And the Bell Company Will Buy It.

Harrodsburg, Ky., June 16.—The telephone franchise recently passed by the City Council will be sold today before the courthouse door and will be bought by the East Tennessee Telephone Company, it having agreed to buy it at the rates and upon the conditions contained in the ordinance. The rates are $1.65 for residence phones and $2.35 for business houses. The company will at once begin the work of re-establishing the service which was abandoned here six weeks ago.

HIGH PRICES OF TOBACCO

Will Greatly Decrease Importations By Foreign Countries.

A NOTE OF WARNING.

France Will Look to Other Countries—Supply From Her Colonies.

Washington, June 17.—The Bureau of Manufacturers made public a report received from Consul General Skinner at Marseilles in reply to an inquiry from correspondents as to the probable effect in France of an increase of 20 to 30 per cent. in the price of American tobacco. He states that unless clearly justified by general crop conditions it would be to accentuate the present tendency in France to procure supplies in other countries. In five years, Consul Skinner says, the only substantial increase in importations of American tobacco occurred in 1905, and this increase just measured the shortage in importations from Algeria. The disposition seems to be to decrease importations from the United States, while increasing them from other countries.

It must be remembered, continues Consul Skinner, that American exporters are dealing with an absolute government monopoly, and that if prices in the United States should advance too rapidly they monopoly is free to buy in the cheapest available market, and may be expected to do so, to the extent that the substitute tobaccos do not interfere with the volume of consumption and consequent revenue which the government expects to derive from the enterprise. This is equally true of other European governments which control the tobacco business. The French government is further committed to the policy of developing the colonies in every possible manner, and, other things being equal, will give their tobacco the preference. The Consul notes specially that advanced farming methods are being employed in remote tobacco growing countries which is greatly increasing production. This is particularly true in the fertile and populous island of Java.
